

Restaurant Opportunities Center of New York

Restaurant Opportunities Centers United
Dedicated to winning improved conditions for restaurant workers everywhere.

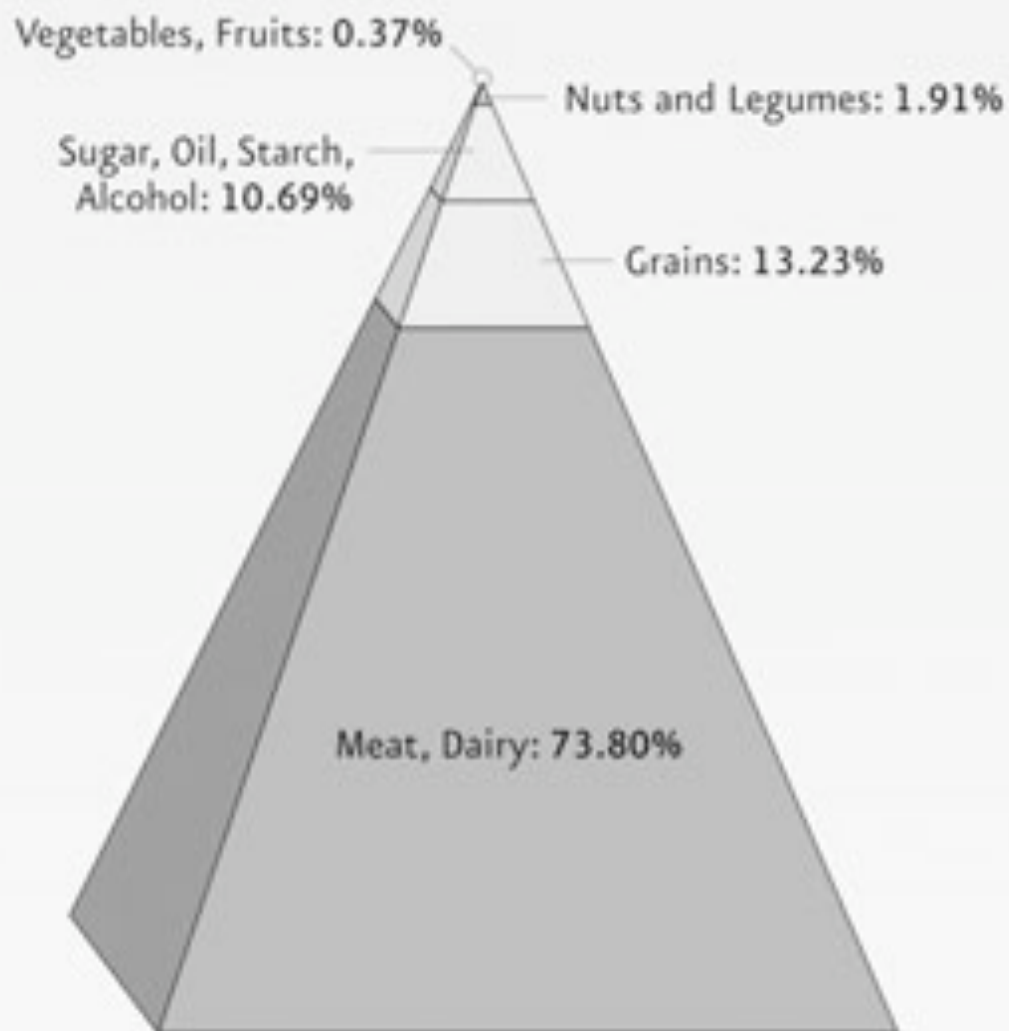

Walmart's Share of the U.S. Grocery Market

Why Does a Salad Cost More Than a Big Mac?

Federal Subsidies for Food Production, 1995-2005[®]

Federal Nutrition Recommendations

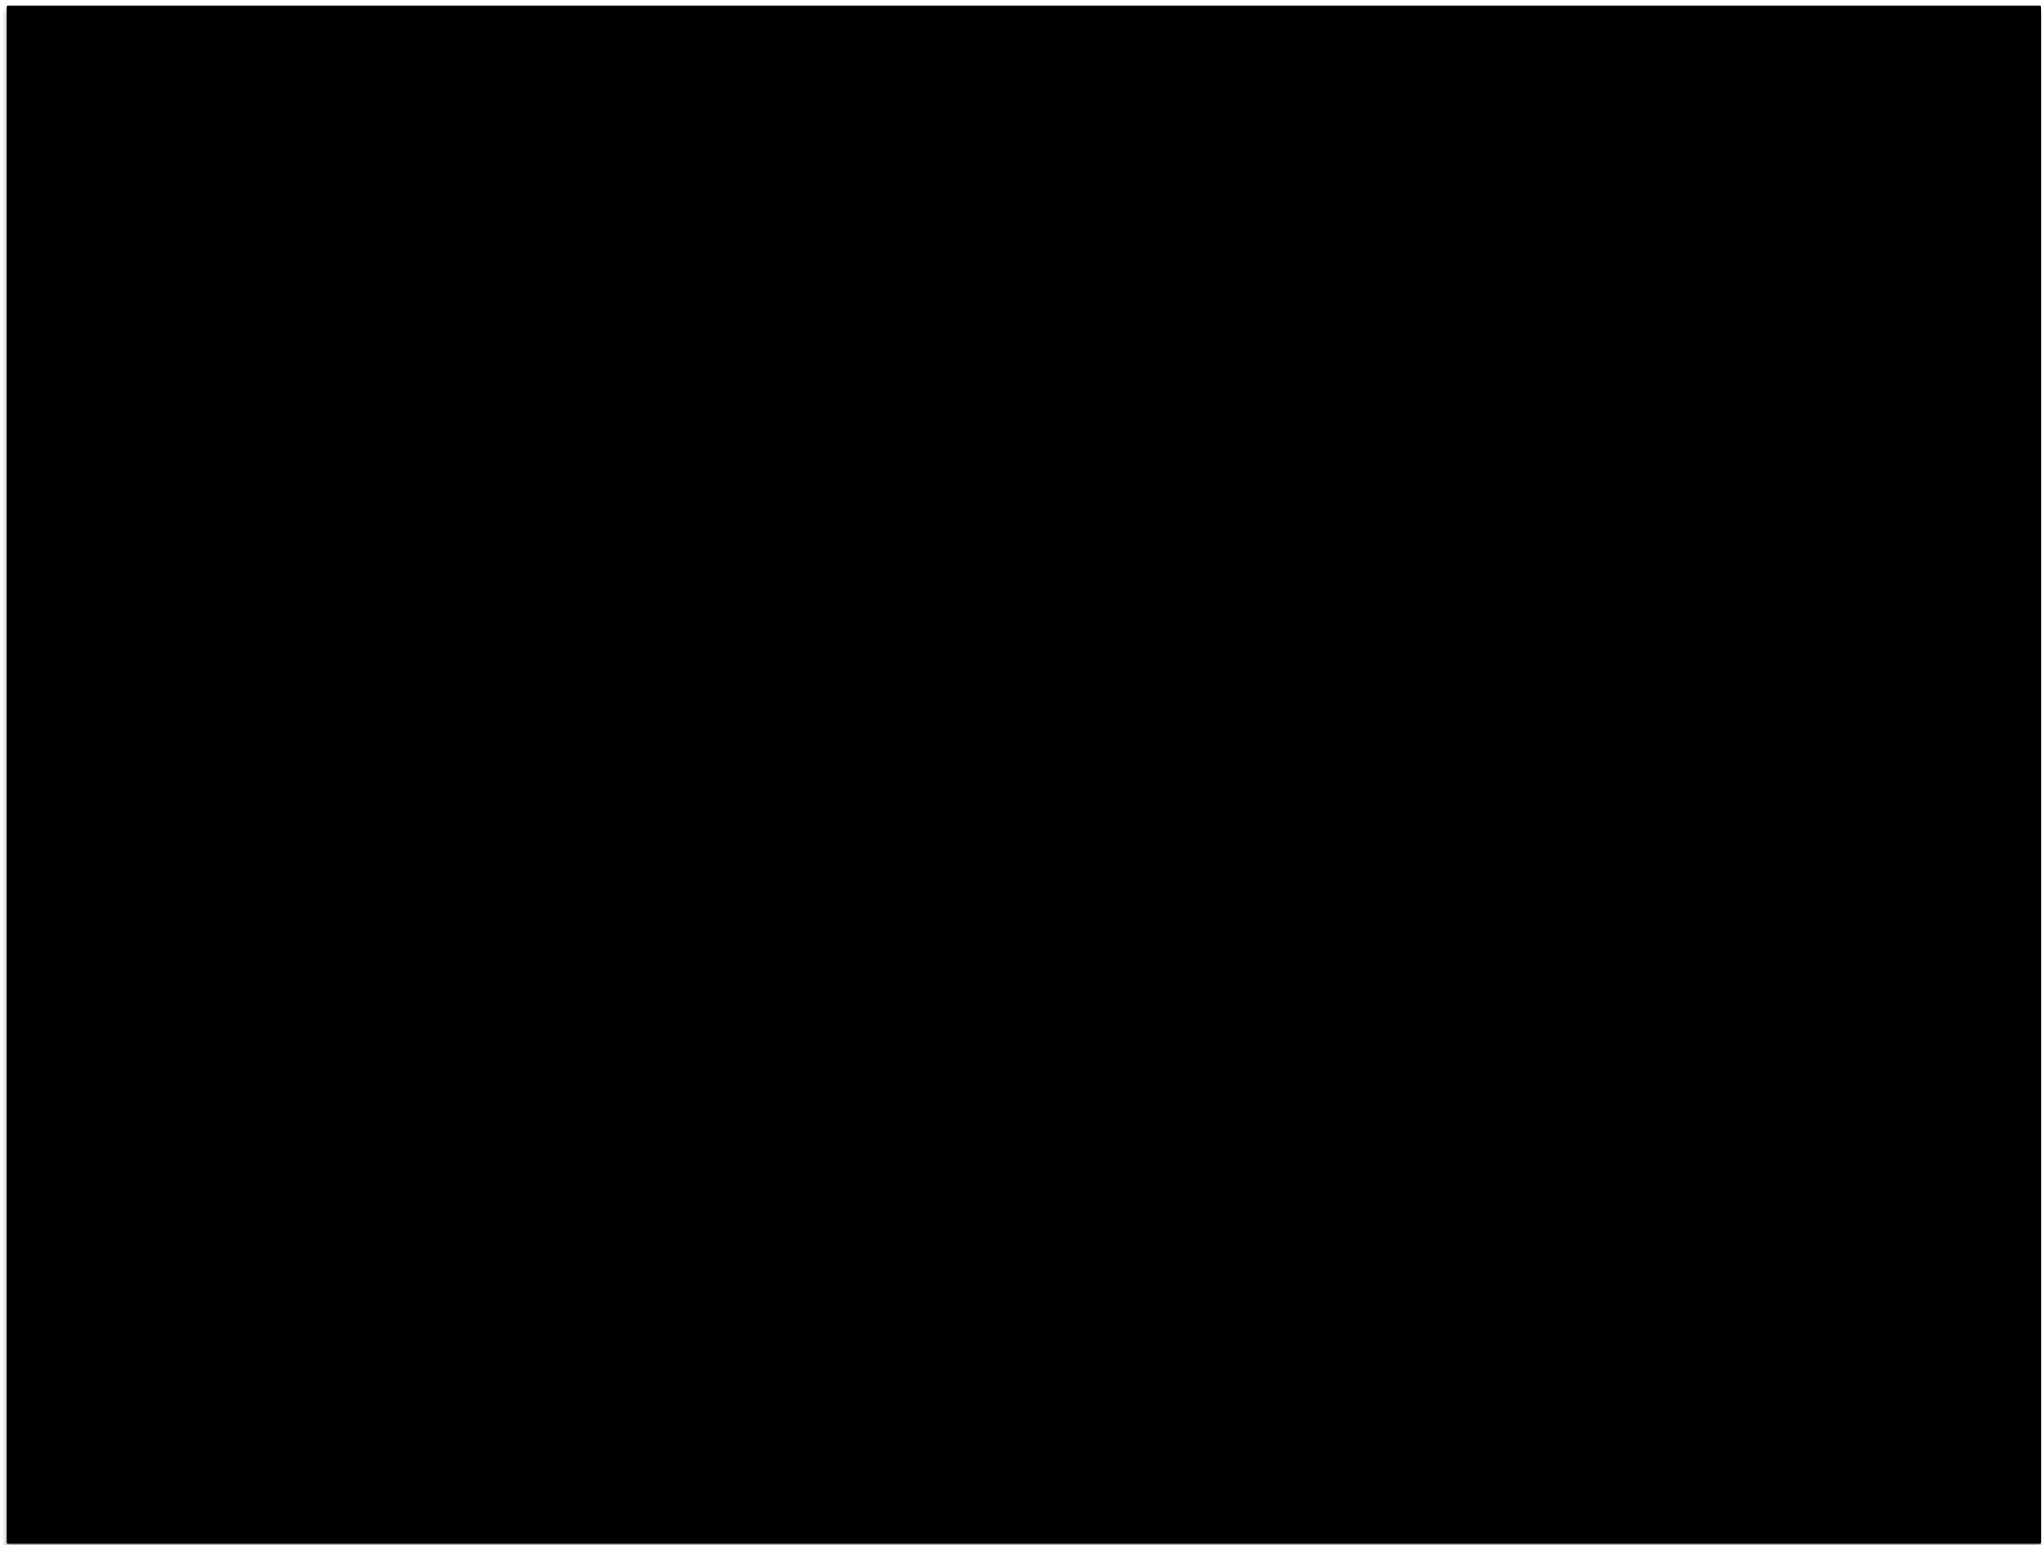

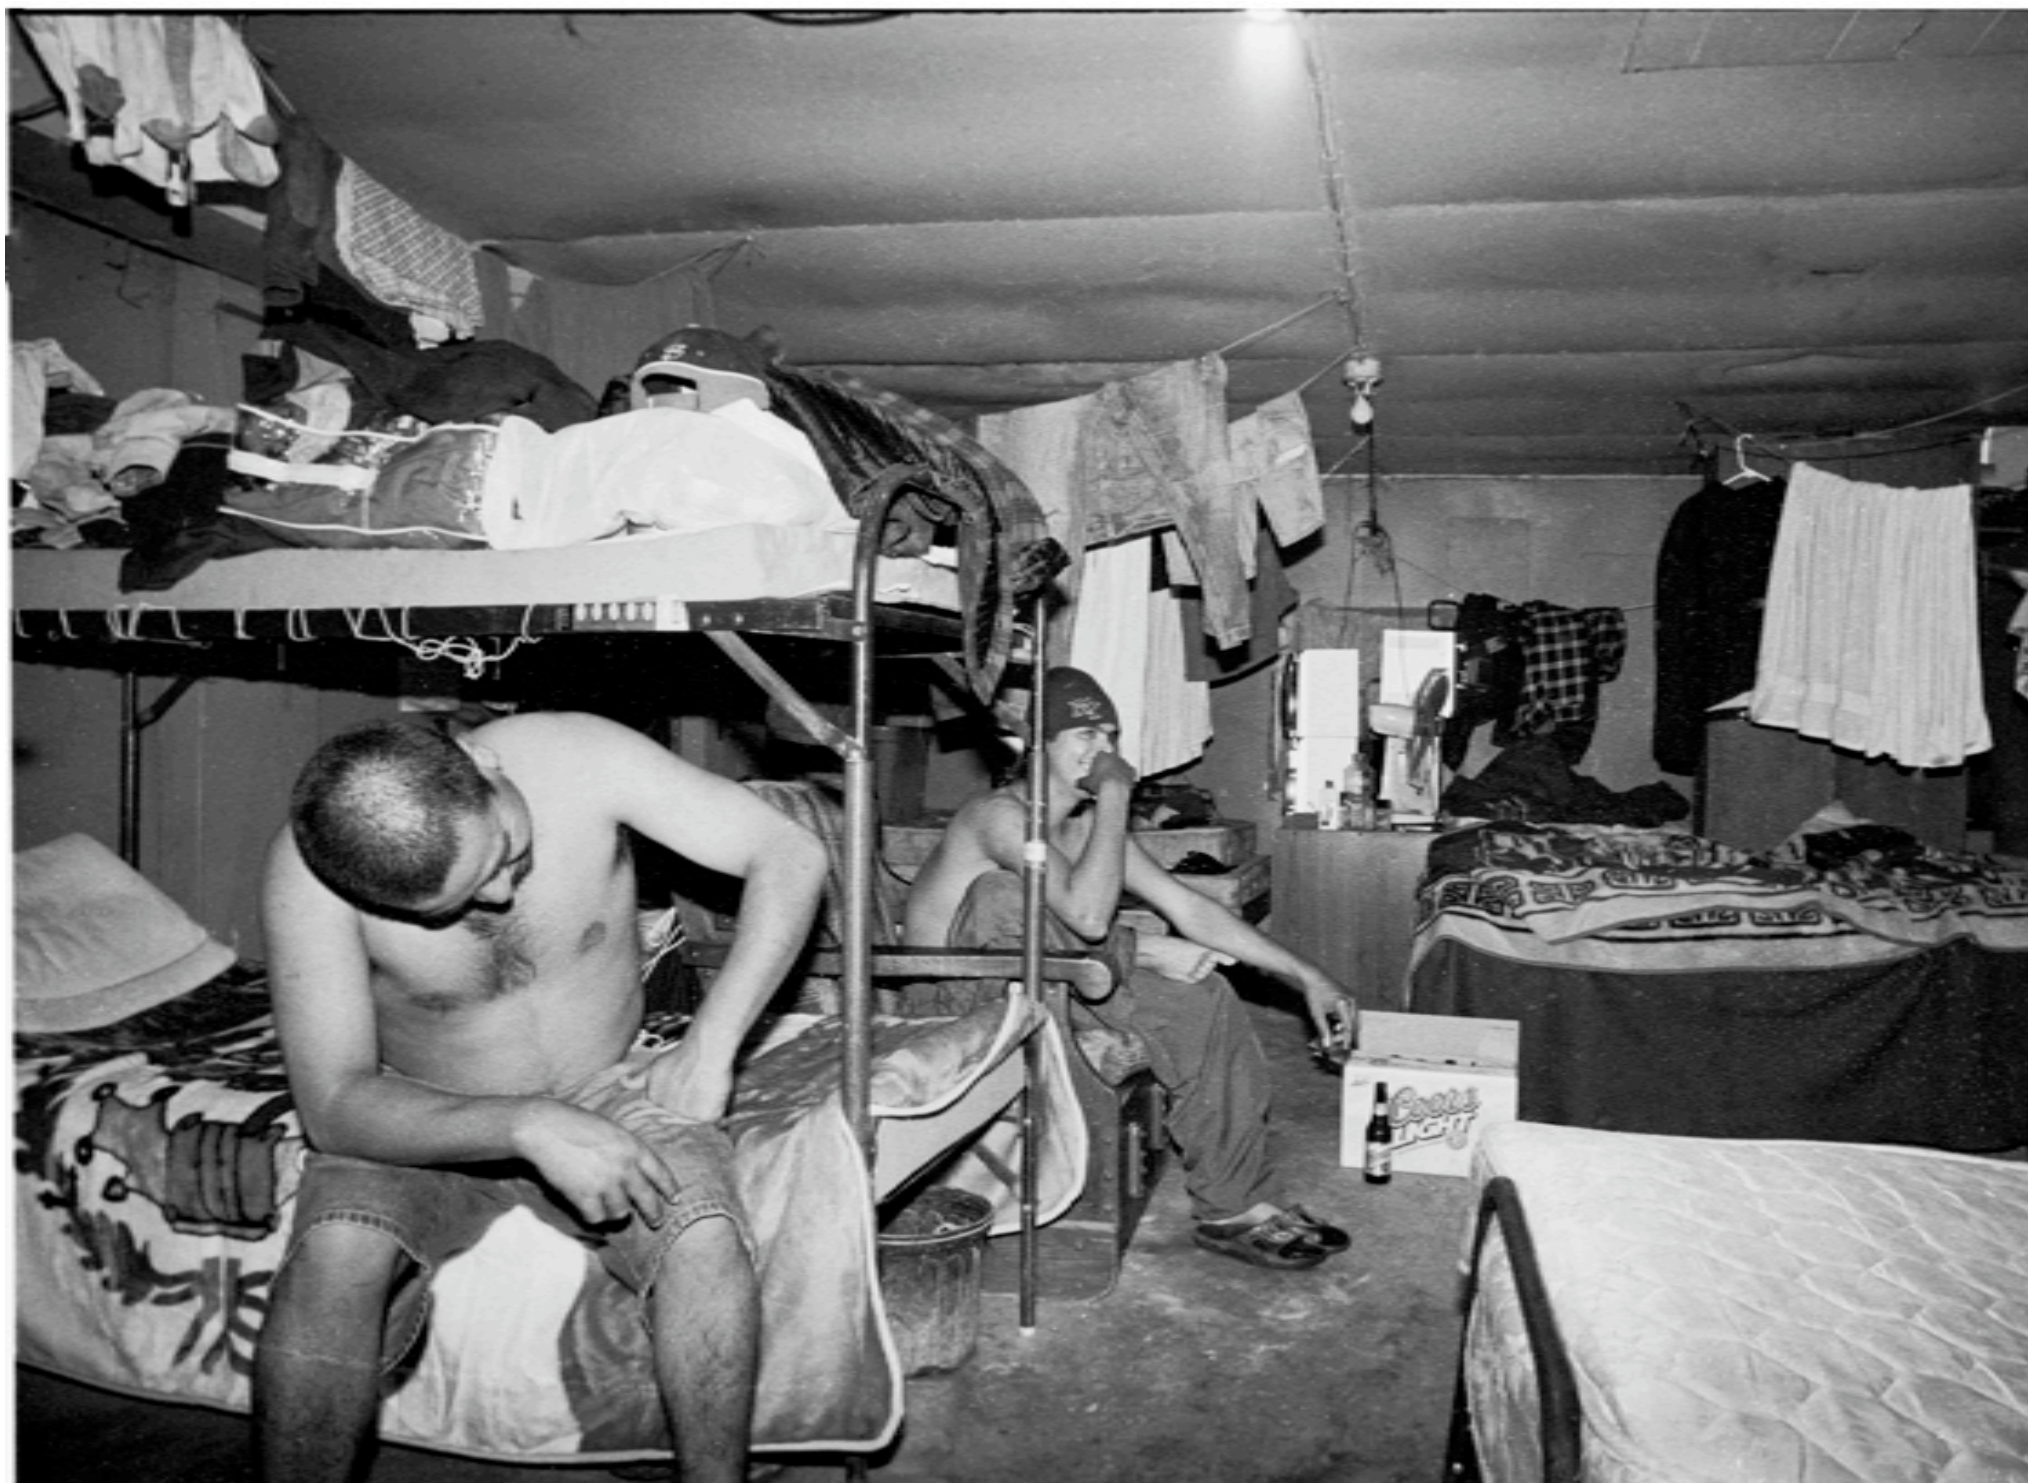

Photo: Chris Kirchhoff / MediaOutSouthAfrica.com

WHO'S BEHIND YOUR FOOD?

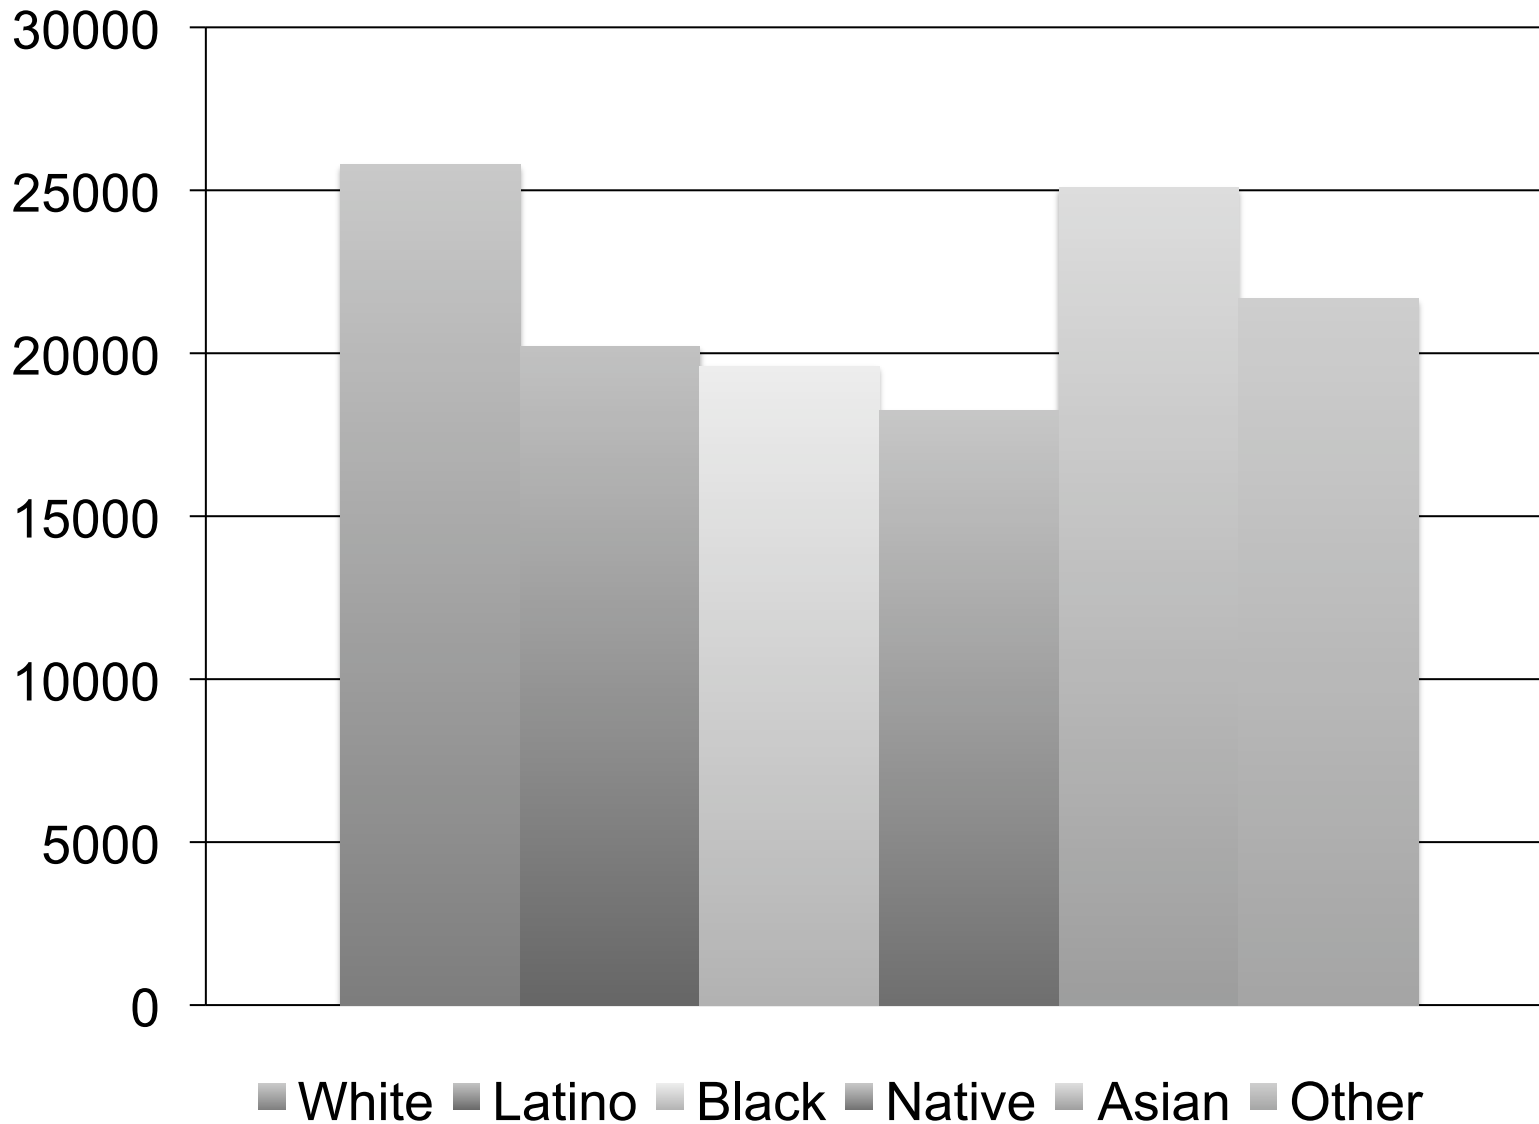

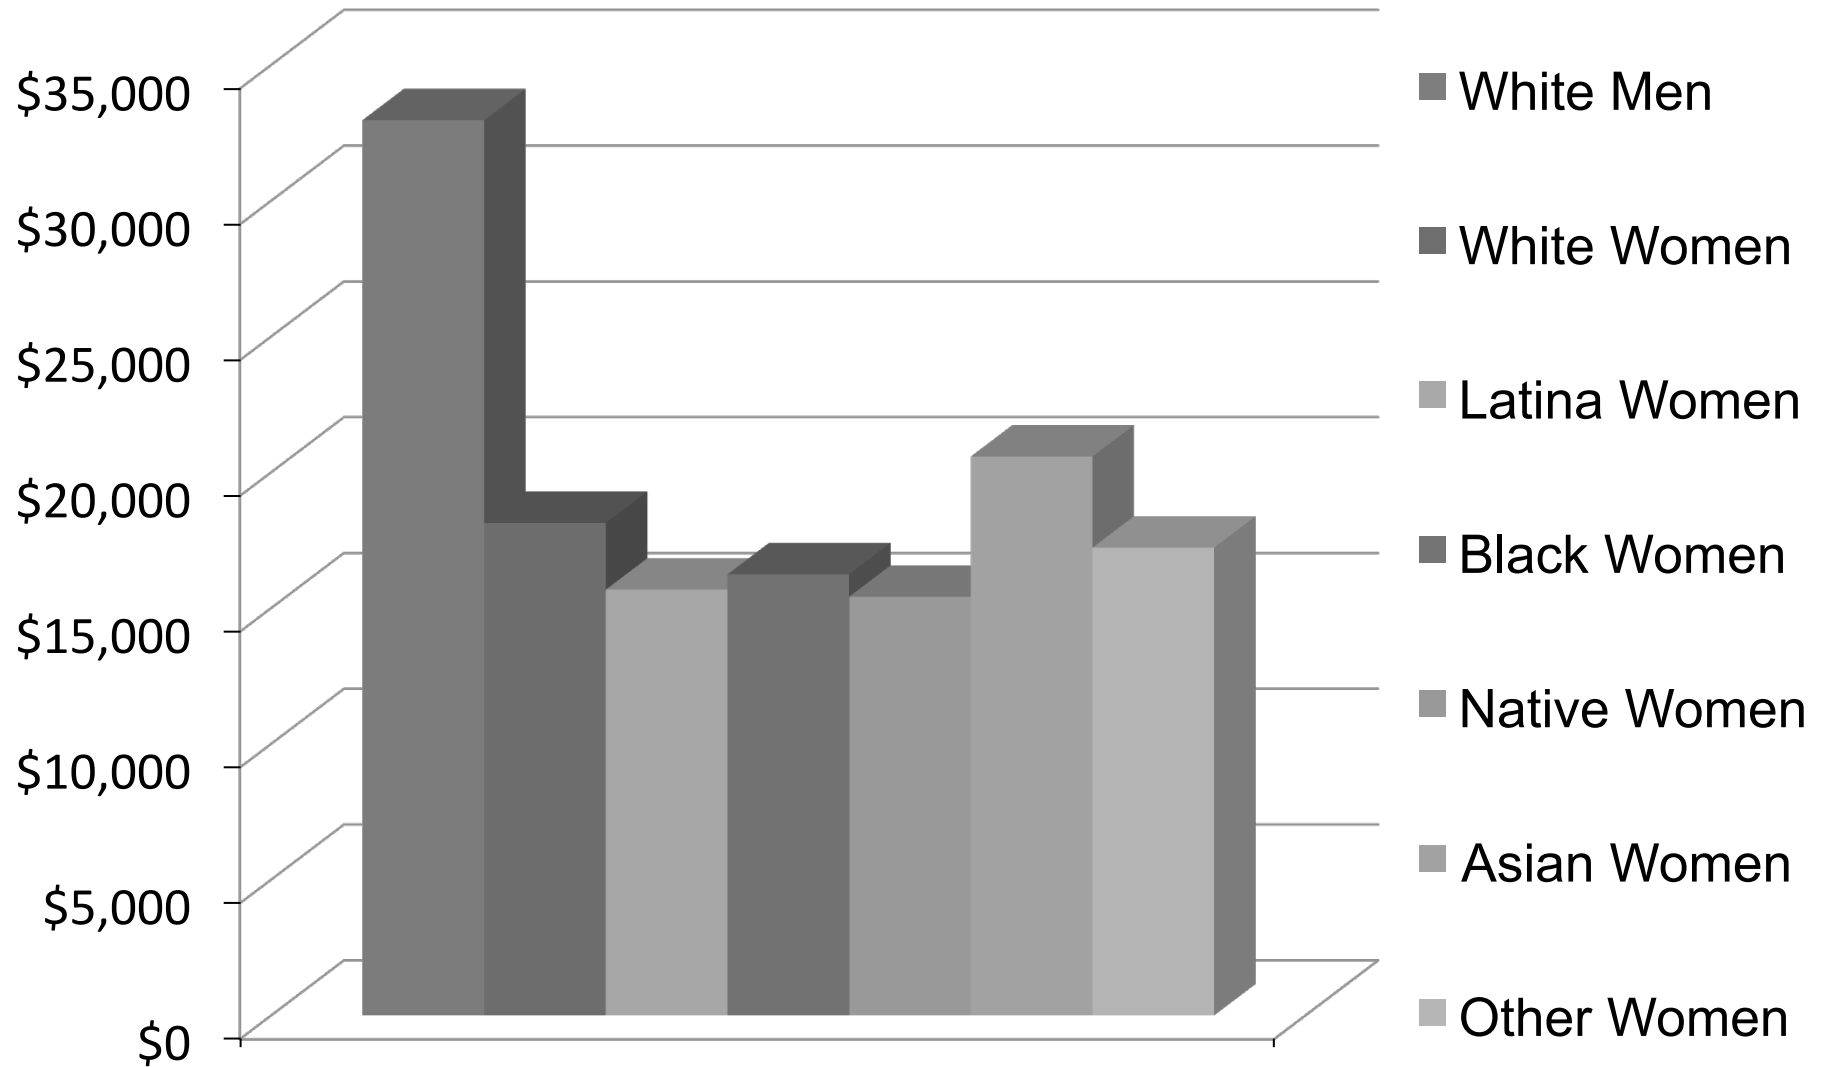

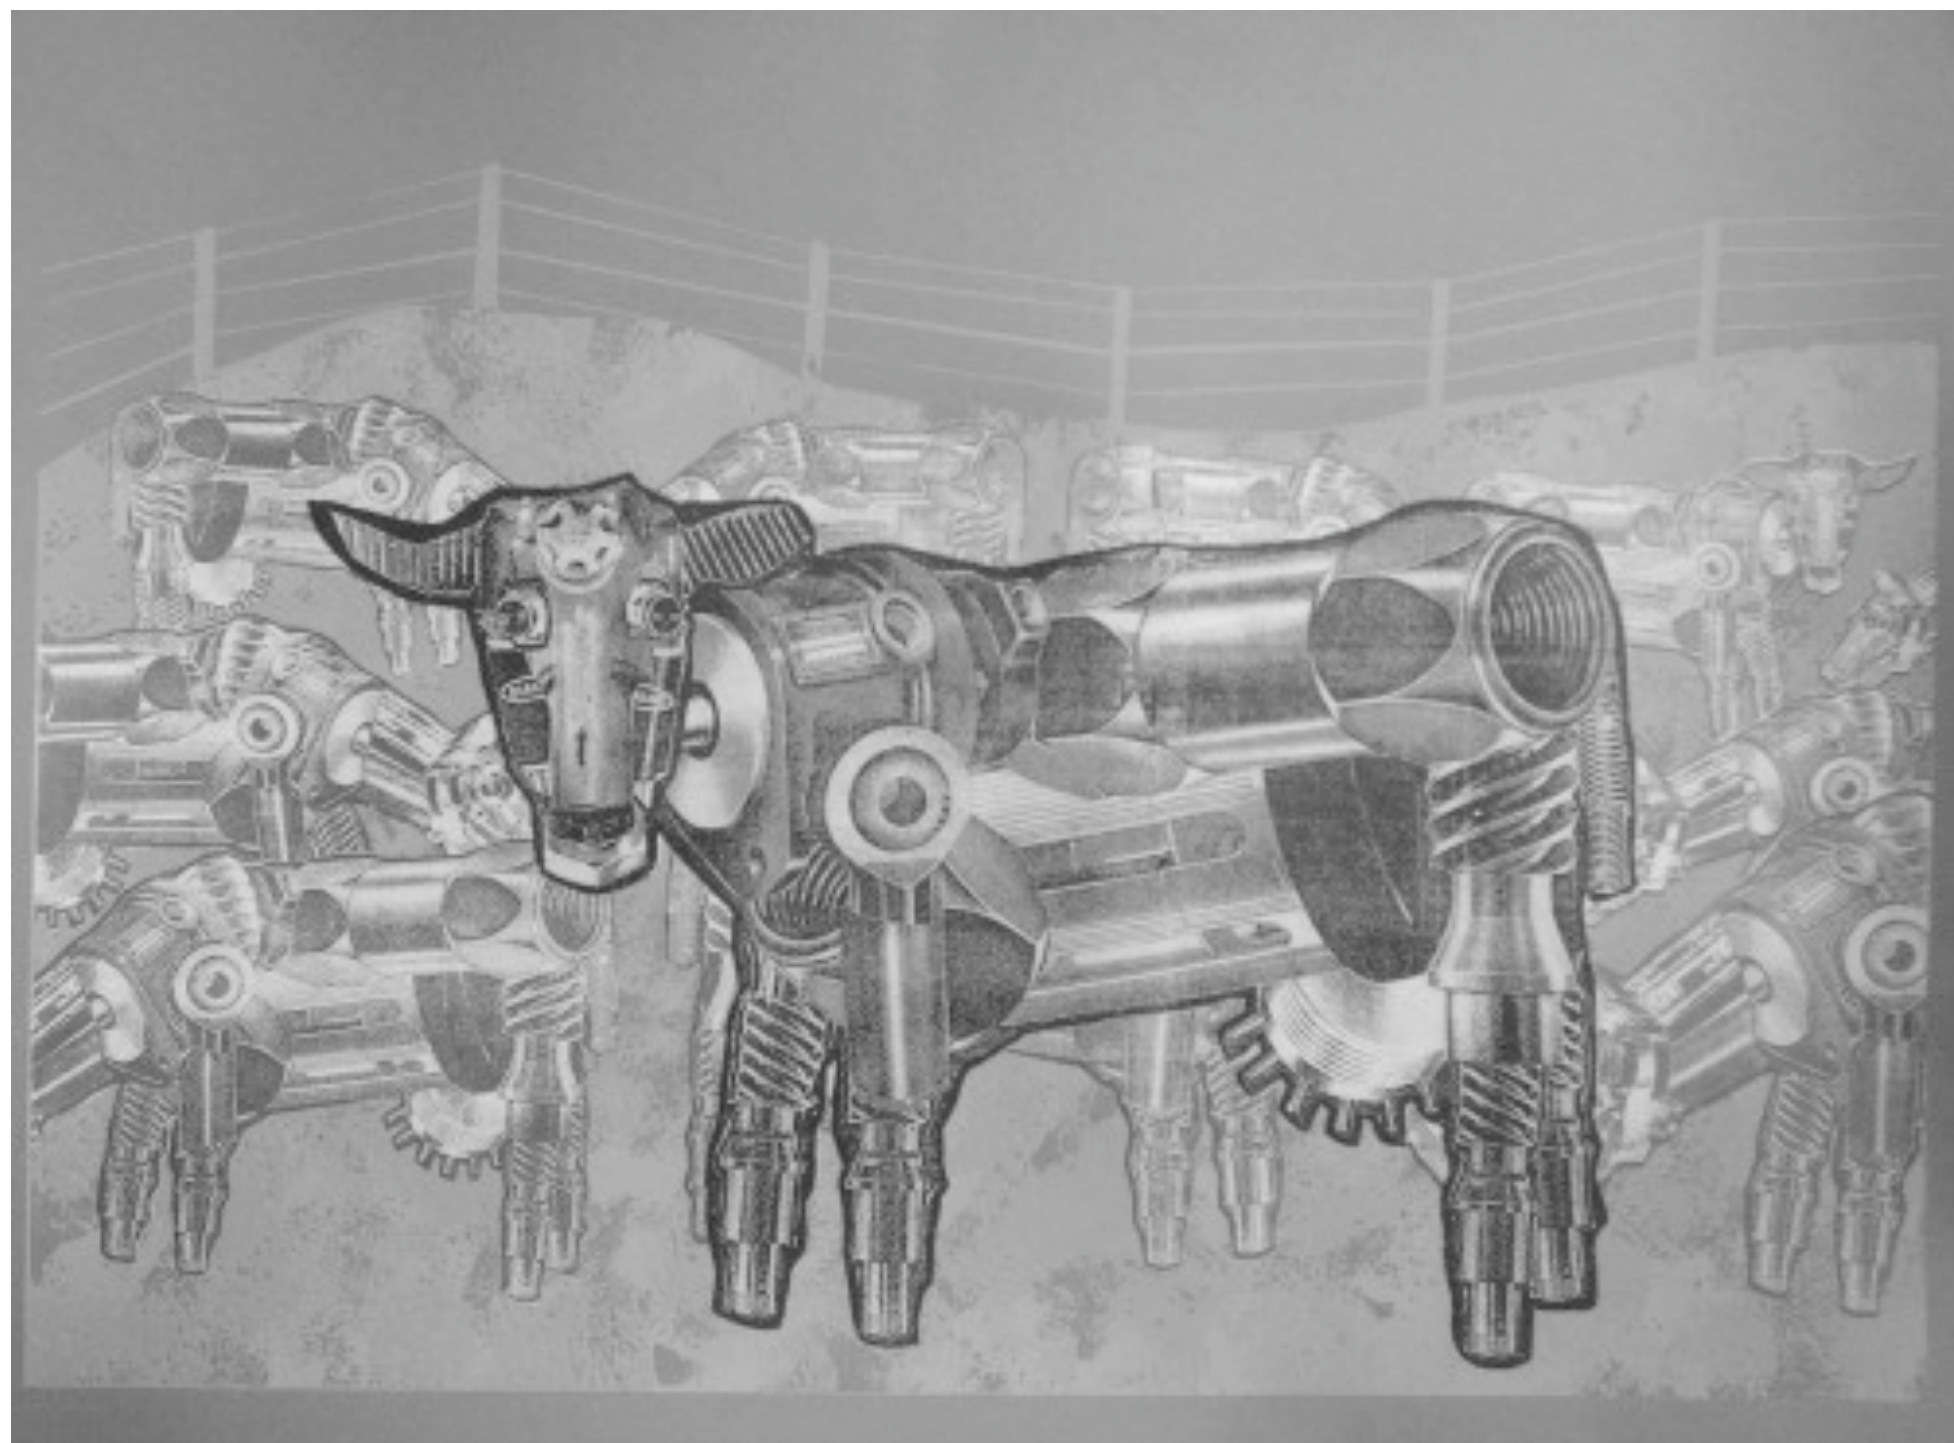

Mean Annual Incomes by Race

Mean Annual Incomes by Gender

FARMWORKER FREEDOM MARCH

Freedom from forced labor, poverty and abuse.

APRIL 16-18, 2010 / WWW.CIW-ONLINE.ORG

★C★
I★W

www.foodunited.org

SERVING WHILE SICK

High Risks & Low Benefits for the Nation's Restaurant Workforce, and Their Impact on the Consumer

International Labor Rights Forum
www.laborrights.org

THE ECONOMIC EXPANSION CONTINUES!

CORPORATE PROFITS

WAGES

WORKERS

WASSERMAN
© 1964 THE NEW YORK TIMES
COPYRIGHTED BY THE NEW YORK TIMES

FOOD CHAIN WORKERS ALLIANCE

HOMEABOUTMEMBERSPROGRAMSTAKE ACTIONRESOURCESDONATE

Food & Racial Justice

- by Rev. David L. Ostendorf - Midst all the manifestations of the so-called "food movement" in the U.S.—organic, slow, sustainable, natural, whole, healthy, urban, sovereign—is a glaring absence of analysis of the structure of race that pervades the entire food system, from the ground to the grocer. Wherever food is produced, picked, processed, packed, or purveyed low wage workers of color predominate in the hard,...

NEXT

Sign Up!

DONATE NOW!

News

New ROC United Report: Serving
Millions of...

Campaigns

Modern-Day Slavery
Museum Tour Fall
2012 - The Center...

Take Action

Food Sovereignty
Call to Action Oct.
18-19, 2012

Featured Member

Brandworkers
International
Modern-Day Slavery...

DOMESTIC FAIR TRADE
ASSOCIATION

FOOD CHAIN WORKERS ALLIANCE

www.foodchainworkers.org